We read every day,
for all sorts of reasons. We need to read!

Before Reading

- Ask students to talk about what they know about reading and why we need to read.
- Read the title together. Read the name of the author to them. Discuss what students see in the pictures on the cover and title page. Ask: Is this book fiction or non-fiction? How do you know? What is the difference? (Fiction is not true.)
- Help students use the title of the book and cover illustration to make predictions about what might be in the text.
- Read the title and the table of contents to give an idea of what is going to be in the text.
- Talk/walk through the pictures. Notice how books make people feel happy or focused. Students discuss what books they see on each page and who is reading them. Bring words like blind, braille, code, family, friends, glasses, letters, pets, toys, words into the conversation.
- Before turning to page 16 ask students how they think the book might end.

Reading the Text

- Read the cover and the title page together.
- On pages 2–3, ask: What are the different reasons we read? What can you say about the children in the picture? Do you recognise any of the books? Which ones have you read?
- Look for tricky words like learn, enjoy, find out about in the text. Break the words into chunks or syllables, e.g. en-joy. Students read the text, pointing to the words as they are read.
- On pages 4–5, discuss the pictures. Ask: What places can we read? Find the words home, school, work in the text. Read the words together.
- Follow this pattern for each page, discussing the pictures before reading each page. Discuss the ending after turning to page 16.
- Students use the index and find information about school. They ask a partner questions about the index, e.g. What page are glasses on?

After Reading

Check the accuracy of students' predictions. Invite them to discuss the text. Prompt if needed.

- Ask students about people who can not see. How can they read books? (Braille) How does braille work? What do people use if they can't see very well, but are not blind? (glasses)
- Discuss and model how to identify the main idea of the text.
- Discuss page 16 and what it means. How does reading feed the mind? How does reading make leaders? What do you think the author's purpose was for writing the book? What have you learnt from this book?
- Look at the back cover. Have students finish this sentence to show how they feel. A day without reading is like... If they aren't sure, could they try some time without reading? Are they able to do it? How does it feel?
- Look at the design on the page numbers. What is it? What does this feature add to the book?

Phonics

- Write the words about, cloud, loud, out, shout on the board to practise blending and segmenting the onsets and rimes together as a group, e.g. /cl/-oud, cloud. Brainstorm more words with -ou to add to the list, e.g. doubt, couch, pouch.

Word Study

- Talk about the words about, any, away, be, help, make, there, very. Read the flash cards from the inside front cover together. Ask students to find and read these words in the book and discuss their meaning in context.
- On a piece of paper, students draw a picture from the book. They write the matching sentence from the text.
- Discuss words that are metaphors (a comparison without like or as) on page 16. Reading is feeding the mind. Readers are leaders.
- Have students find compound words in the story, e.g. anyone, newspapers, ourselves, without, yourself. They say their meaning and then break them apart into two words.
- Have students describe what you find in a library. Use page 6 to help you. Who benefits from libraries? Have you ever been to a school or a public library? They share their experiences.

Fluency

- Practise rereading the story with a partner (orally), sharing information.

Writing

- Have students write a new text using the pattern of the text, e.g. Reading can help us to make things. They illustrate the thing to make and share this with a partner.
- Reading can... (page 8) How can it help us be friends when we are far away?
- Have students make a reading web with a picture of a book in the middle and all the things that reading can do for us coming out from the web. They label and draw the things. They share with a partner as a re-tell of the text.
- Students make a survey of all the different things that can be read in the classroom. Who can find the most? They report the findings to the class.
